

CERPs International Training Course

A very special training event organised by ELACTA – European Lactation Consultants Alliance – October 15th (starting with lunch) to October 19th (ending around 14:00) 2014 in South Tyrol/Italy

A useful and enjoyable combination – enjoying culture and nature – learning together and exchanging knowledge in a friendly atmosphere – making discoveries beyond all boundaries – talking, laughing, discussing and having fun together while we collect CERPs.

The event takes place near Brixen in the heart of South Tyrol (Italy). South Tyrol is known for its successful combination of Italian and German-Austrian lifestyles. Heat, sun and mountains have shaped an unparalleled landscape.

Brixen is a medieval bishop town with gates, arbors, battlements and beautiful sites. The convention centre, Kloster Neustift, is nestled in picturesque vineyards nearby. It offers modern conference facilities in a medieval setting. Images and information are available at www.kloster-neustift.it South Tyrolean cuisine brings its tasty coexistence of traditional Tyrolean cuisine and typical Italian dishes. In addition, South Tyrol is home to wonderful white and red wines.

CERPs

We design the morning lectures ourselves with presentations, workshops and case discussions. Who has an interesting lecture or an exciting case study? If you contribute something to the programme, the participation fee is reduced. For a presentation, the fee is €40,- less, for a case study €20,- less. Experience shows that the entire training programme earns about 10-12 CERPs. We will provide one room for courses in German and one room for courses in English.

Leisure

In the afternoons are common cultural and culinary excursions in the area. We will hike along a picturesque chestnut-lined path from Feldthurns to the Benedictine monastery, Saeben, picturesquely perched like a castle on a prominent rock 200 m above Klausen. Reifenstein Castle at Sterzing was never once in its history conquered and destroyed and therefore is considered today as the best preserved castle in South Tyrol. The small towns of Sterzing and Brixen invite you to stroll, shop and enjoy. A “Törggelen evening”, a typical Thanksgiving feast celebrated in the south Tyrol, will be a moment of pure pleasure for all.

Costs

For this event, a participation fee of €120,- will be charged. Half-board accommodation is available at the convention centre, Kloster Neustift, for €55,- per day. The number of participants is limited, so sign up quickly, treat yourself to this memorable, customised stay. ELACTA will reserve your accommodation as soon as you have done the registration. You have to pay yourself directly in Kloster Neustift.

Registration deadline: September 1st 2014
